Pune, Maharashtra | 22nd April, 2025

On 22nd April, 2025, the school celebrated Earth Day with students from Grades I to V. The event aimed to inspire students to become environmentally conscious and proactive, fostering a deep sense of responsibility for the planet. It sought to instill values of environmental responsibility, sustainability, and the interconnectedness of nature and human well-being.

In line with the theme, the activities were tailored to each grade, with a focus on both scientific understanding and social responsibility.

For the science subjects, Grade I students went on a nature walk and engaged in palm printing, connecting with the natural world. Grade II students expressed their creativity through card making and writing eco-friendly quotes.

Grade III students took an oath with a pledge on Earth Day and created posters highlighting the importance of caring for the planet. Grade IV students learned about sustainability through paper bag-making, and Grade C students constructed bird feeders, helping to support local wildlife.

For social science, Grade III students drew the Earth and reflected on ways to protect it through writing. Grade IV students watched an informative video on Earth Day and participated in a quiz, enhancing their knowledge on environmental issues. Finally, Grade V students put their thoughts into words, writing slogans to raise awareness about Earth Day.

The celebration not only educated students about environmental issues but also encouraged them to take tangible actions to protect and preserve the Earth for future generations.

Adding to the spirit of Earth Day, a special school assembly was held, hosted by the Grade VII students under the leadership of the Green House. This assembly served as a platform to deepen environmental awareness and action among the wider student community.

A PowerPoint presentation on Earth Day was showcased by the students, followed by a graceful dance performance to the song 'Chalo Mil Ke Ped Lagaye,' which beautifully reinforced the message of nurturing and saving the planet.

Demonstrating initiative and commitment, several students brought saplings to contribute to a greener, healthier school environment. The assembly inspired everyone present to commit to small yet meaningful steps towards building a better, more sustainable future.
