S.B. Patil Public School, Ravet, celebrated English Language Day on 23rd April, 2025 which is also Shakespeare's birth and death anniversary. The event was celebrated with a host of vibrant activities across all grades, promoting language learning, multilingualism, and cultural diversity.

The celebrations for Grades I to V began in the classrooms, where students engaged in fun and educational activities. The youngest learners drew pictures based on three- and four-letter words, while others enjoyed a word association game that helped expand their vocabulary.

Additionally, students were shown a video that provided insight into the history and significance of English Language Day, fostering an early appreciation for the richness of the language.

Grades IV and V held a special assembly in the school auditorium. The agenda included an informative speech about the life and works of William Shakespeare, a skit based on The Merchant of Venice, and a poem recitation that showcased the students' growing command over the language. The assembly concluded with a heartfelt vote of thanks.

Meanwhile, students from Grades VI to IX carried forward the celebration with equal vigour. A PowerPoint presentation highlighted the literary contributions of Indian authors who have made a mark in English literature. The students of Grade VIII recited the poems 'Vocation' and 'The Last Bargain' in a melodious tune, captivating the audience with their expressive delivery.

Manya Datar from Grade IX took the stage next, presenting a lively monologue as Sudha Murthy, inspiring her peers to cultivate the habit of reading. Following this, Arshaan Kadri, also from Grade IX, energised the atmosphere with a self-composed rap song that had the audience clapping along to the rhythm.

Adding a touch of heartfelt emotion, Snehi Kapoor from Grade IX read out a letter she had written, expressing her gratitude towards her English language teachers for their guidance and encouragement. The event concluded with Saloni Sonkamble from Grade VIII delivering a sincere vote of thanks, bringing the celebration to a fitting close.
