
Showcasing Eco-Friendly Craftsmanship: A Visit by the 'Soul in Shell' Founder, Ms. Varsha Hulle

Pune, Maharashtra | 14th November, 2025

On 14th November 2025, S.B. Patil Public School had the pleasure of hosting Ms. Varsha Hulle — a parent and the founder of Soul in Shell, an eco-conscious enterprise dedicated to transforming coconut shells into functional and artistic handcrafted products. Her visit highlighted the importance of sustainable innovation and the creative potential of natural materials.

During her interaction with the school leadership, Ms. Hulle showcased a range of her handcrafted items, each thoughtfully designed from repurposed coconut shells. As a gesture of appreciation, she presented the Principal, Dr. Bindu Saini, with a beautifully crafted coconut-shell phone stand, a personalised name badge, and an intricately carved cup — all of which reflected exceptional craftsmanship and a commitment to eco-friendly living.

Her work embodies the philosophy “Choose eco-friendly to stay healthy,” which aligns with the school’s efforts to instil environmental awareness and responsible consumption among students. The visit offered an inspiring glimpse into how everyday waste can be transformed into valuable products with creativity, skill, and environmental mindfulness.

The school appreciates Ms. Varsha Hulle’s thoughtful gesture and looks forward to exploring opportunities for future collaborations that promote sustainability and hands-on learning for students.
